Reasons Why You Should Select Easy Living Home Elevators

- 1] Easy Living Home Elevators specialise in lifts for private homes. We don't market commercial lifts, but stay specialised in our market.
 - 2] Both directors of Easy Living Home Elevators have 20+ years industry experience each. They have selected the best products available on the market and have done so using their technical experience and industry/lift code knowledge....not just looking at the cost of the equipment.
 - 3] A lift in a home is a purchase with an impact of over 20 years. Unlike a car, if you purchase a product you are not satisfied with; you can not trade it in and move on. We have just completed the most extensive survey of all our service customers and the comments have backed up our confidence in our after sales service. We believe we are the best....and our customers do too.
 - 4] Easy Living Home Elevators is the preferred choice by architects, builders, designers and the end consumer Australia wide.
 - 5] We are just around the corner. Prospective purchasers will appreciate the "local" presence and quick response if the need for breakdown assistance arises.
 - 6] Our installers, maintenance and safety technicians are all employed and trained by Easy Living Home Elevators. We do not use sub-contractors. What this means for you is that we have experienced, capable technicians who share our company vision for excellence in lift maintenance and customer safety.
 - 7] We have ISO 9001 certification which formalises our processes and offers you traceability through the entire off-site and on-site program.
 - 8] We are very price competitive:

AquaGlide Lift

The AquaGlide is a simple and economical elevator without sacrificing quality and style. It's suitability for indoor and outdoor use along with strength and modern aesthetics makes the AquaGlide the perfect access choice in all types of homes.

The Aqua Glide is a water hydraulic powered lift with two direct acting cylinders, one on each side of the lift car. It comes complete with a tower and can be fitted to an owner supplied shaft or have sheeting attached directly to the tower.

Builder's works requirement is at a minimum, leading to a very fast and easy installation. The standard car size is 900 wide x 1300 deep and comes in single entry car configurations; thru car configurations are available upon request.

With a lifting capacity of 250kg, a small pit depth of only 80mm and no machine room requirement. The AquaGlide will take up less floor space in your residence; therefore the AquaGlide is very easily incorporated into your next project.

The Aqua Glide comes standard with impressive safety features you expect including:

- In car phone
- Stainless steel handrail
- Key lockable push button controls
- Emergency stop button in the lift car
- Infra-red car entrance protection
- Emergency back-up battery power supply for lighting and lowering of the car
- Emergency lowering function facility
- Non slip floor covering
- And much more!

Quality for Peace of Mind

The AquaGlide lift is proudly designed, developed and manufactured in Australia.

Safety is the most important aspect of our AquaGlide lift and by manufacturing it here in Australia, to the highest quality and safety standards; we know that we are giving our customers a superior lift product with very short lead times.

Unfortunately in recent months we have experienced growing concerns with the quality of imported products from some parts of the world. We have now reached a point unfortunately where with the growing popularity of lifts within the residential market, lifts are being rushed onto the market without regard for performance testing or regulations leading to very poor standards in quality control and safety.

A major fundamental problem is that these new manufacturing lift companies concentrate on superficial appearance and don't believe in producing a high quality lift product for long term performance.

Their main goal is to make the lifts look beautifully finished with an emphasis placed on a high quality look using finishes consisting of granite, glass or stainless steel. Yet the workmanship beneath is inferior, where after installation the lift corrodes or falls apart after a certain length of time or use and needs to be replaced, costing you more time and money.

The significance of a product made in Australia means that you can expect a quality product that 'won't fall apart'. Cheap and low quality imported lift products from cheap labour countries often can't compete with our high quality and safe lift systems manufactured in Australia.

Easy Living Home Elevators are commitment to quality, reliability and safety. Our customers recognise the long-term value of using our AquaGlide lift. Providing peace of mind now and into the future.

AquaGlide Lift Features

Even our tiny self contained control cabinets which can be installed externally or internally to the home reduce the lift area requirements. No separate machine room is required, optimising building space. Making the AquaGlide Lift very easy to accommodate into your new or existing project.

Homing

The AquaGlide also comes with automatic homing as standard. This means that the lift will automatically return to the lower landing when not in use.

Security

A call send facility with an isolating key lock is provided to the lower landing so that the lift car can be sent from the landing and the isolating key turned off to secure the lift from unwanted users. A call only station is provided to the upper landings.

If security is a concern and the lift needs to be locked at the upper landing then a call, send with an isolating key lock can be fitted to the upper landing.
