BE INSPIRED | DOMUS EVOLUTION LIFT

Designed specifically for the family who live here, it addresses their needs now, and into the future.

A busy young family with a baby and a toddler, the three storeys of the home could have presented a major struggle to get all that accompanies small children from level to level, so the couple decided to incorporate a lift into the design. Rather than placing it unobtrusively in a corner, they decided to make it a centrepiece - and what a centrepiece it is!

DOMUS EVOLUTION LIFT

The award winning Domus Evolution Lift is a true Australian icon, designed, engineered and manufactured in Milan, Italy to suit the requirements of the Australian market.

Perfect for both residential and commercial applications.

Featuring automatic stainless steel sliding doors, optional self supporting glass and steel towers, low pit and headroom dimensions. The Domus Evolution has all bases covered.

Craig and Ella chose the Domus EvolutionLift, and opted for the 1100x1400mm lift car to accommodate their kids, prams, pets, and “our wheelchairs in the far distant future, we hope” say the clients. Designed into a masonry shaft with glass inserts, the lift offers views through the glass as it ascends and descends capturing ever-changing snapshots of the outlook.

The lift shaft has been tiled in white subway tiles through the three storeys, adding a crisp dimension to the mosaic tiled floor. The shaft also features LED strip lighting all the way up the shaft, (blue in our photos) and the owners have the opportunity to create mood by changing the colour theme. “For Christmas, we might have red and green”, joke the owners. Or maybe they weren’t joking? Either way, it’s bound to look stunning.

A LUXURIOUS EDGE

Premium glass doors framed in brushed stainless steel, gives the elevator a luxurious edge, whilst also providing open fluidity and light, creating a sense of larger space. The interior finishes of the lift are timeless and high-end, featuring brushed stainless steel, a mirrored glass wall on the rear and transparent glass on the right hand side maximises natural light into the lift car to its full potential.

“10+ years on, the Domus Evolution is a true Australian icon. Designed, engineered and built in Europe to suit the requirements of the Australian market”

The Domus Evolution Lift represents an investment in the future of the home, which is why the owners chose to make a feature of it by placing it centrally alongside the stairs. “The exposed lift shaft runs through the three floors and with the addition of the LED strip lighting it looks amazing at night, and stylish and sculptural during the day. The lift shaft is also very intriguing, given that you don’t often see the mechanical workings of a lift in a residential home,” says Ella. “It could have ended up looking quite industrial, but it works with the traditional fit out of the Queenslander.”

“We opted for the larger size, and while it’s wonderful for getting the children, shopping, dogs, and prams up and down, we can also shift furniture in it when we need to.”

This is a home for today and tomorrow - a stylish and practical family home where this young family can grow, and enjoy all the house has to offer.
